How we work

We don't charge an hourly rate. We offer simple, all-inclusive coverage so you can stay present and not worry about the clock.

We deliver your final gallery within 8-12 weeks via private, shareable online galleries (photos + videos), ready to view, download, and share on any device. We use Pic-Time for photos and VidFlow for video.

Our approach is a blend of documentary storytelling combined with gentle guidance, so you feel supported but never staged.

We edit everything ourselves. There is no outsourcing of your images or video to anyone else.

We always include at least two documentarians, ensuring your day is fully and thoughtfully captured from multiple perspectives.

Weddings are a big investment, so we offer multiple payment options. Our flexible plans include pay in full, split into 2-3 payments, or monthly installments—all managed online. The first payment is considered your deposit and secures your date.

We know you're trusting us with something deeply personal. We don't take that lightly—and we approach your day with care, respect, and intention.
